

Dragon Sleeve

The protection of dragons are not just for fairy tales. This Dragon is for real. Dragon Sleeve is made to withstand temperatures so unbelievable that it would melt your mind. Designing a hose that you can melt metal on? Developing a wire harness to suspend over a lava field? We'll leave it to you to dream up how to use heat protection like this. While you are dreaming of where to use Dragon Sleeve, Techflex will keep imagining more of the most innovative sleeving products for you.

Protect Your Arm With Dragon Arm

Arm yourself, your wires, your hoses, and even your projects against these flaming hazards and more with the Dragon line of Techflex materials. You hold flames and produce fire from your fingertips. But, as they say, when you play with fire you're gonna get burned — until now. A weld at an extremely awkward angle or a quick adjustment under the hood no longer need to result in scorched flesh. Constructed from proprietary Dragon Fiber, Dragon Arm is personal protection from flame and heat. Welders, mechanics, and fabricators, you need not char your skin, arm yourself with Dragon Arm.
